Dave Hinnenkamp
CEO, KDV Wealth Management
CNBC "Power Lunch"
Oct. 31, 2007

In today's volatile economy, the steady hand of a practiced partner can be your most valuable asset. You want confidence that your investment adviser will stay the course.

That's exactly what you get from KDV Wealth Management. We're committed to your success. Most importantly, you'll benefit from our signature personalized service.

On Oct. 31, CEO Dave Hinnenkamp lent his expertise to a CNBC segment, explaining that ...

- The market should remain volatile in the short term, even with the rate cut.
- The technology sector looks promising for investors. Corporations are awash in cash and in the middle of product upgrade cycles, specifically with software.
- Technology also should remain strong because it will be used to solve many of the problems created by waves of retiring baby boomers.
- Everyone should keep a close eye on consumer spending over the holiday season as it will reveal the direction of both the economy and the market.
